REAMHRÁ:

An Cathaoirleach Chontae:

It is with great honour that I present to you on behalf of Monaghan GAA our first ever Strategic Plan.

The local GAA club plays an integral part in the rural and urban communities of county Monaghan. Generations of volunteers have given of their time to provide games for our youth, games for our adults and also the promotion of our culture. Although a small county in terms of geography and population, our clubs and county teams have a proud history of achievement at both provincial and national level.

However, we must continually strive to improve. Even as volunteers it is important that we take our responsibilities seriously and carry them out to the best of our ability. This Strategic Plan offers us the opportunity to review how we administer our affairs at all levels and also to plan for the years ahead.

This process began in June 2009 with consultations between all the stakeholders involved, county committee, management, sub-committees and our clubs. The result is a plan that outlines our objectives for the next five years across our entire association. These objectives are specific, achievable and, I believe, necessary if we are to progress to the next level both on the field of play and administratively, whether at club or county level. All areas of our association are covered. They include Governance, Finance, Communications, Integration, Infrastructure, Club & Community Development, Culture & Heritage, Fixtures, Hurling, Coaching, Youth and Schools.

Completion of this document required extensive input from many individuals. I thank all of those involved for their time and effort. This plan is specific in outlining what is to be done, who is responsible and when it shall be completed. I believe if we all work together going forward "ar scáth a chéile" that we as a county can reach our full potential. I also believe that with the proper leadership and with the commitment of each member, we can enjoy implementing this plan as well as enjoy the success that will result.

I look forward to working with you all towards reaching these goals.

Go raibh maith agaibh,

Pól ó Corraín
Cathaoirleach

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This plan has been put in place to set out a way ahead for Monaghan County Committee, Gaelic Athletic Association over the next four years. It is the ninth, and final, County Plan to be facilitated by the Ulster Council and, therefore, represents another significant milestone in the story of the GAA in the province.

The plan however belongs to Monaghan County Committee. It was developed via a process led by and involving significant numbers of Monaghan Gaels during 2010. The plan reflects the various realities and nuances of life generally, and the GAA specifically, within the county.

Among those are:

- ▼ Modern Monaghan has been shaped by the events and trends of many centuries
- ▼ It's people are proud of, and actively, cherish its Gaelic Heritage
- ▼ Relative to most other counties it is small, remains largely rural and faces ongoing issues of deprivation, disadvantage, and isolation
- ▼ In the new Post-Conflict Ireland Monaghan enjoys an increasingly central, as opposed to a peripheral, location
- ▼ Whatever the difficulties, the people of County Monaghan have always believed in, and lived up to a "can do", attitude
- ▼ The county's GAA history is robust and it's GAA clubs have delivered right across the Association's agenda

The planning process, and the consultation which underpinned it, identified ten themes which were considered to be central to the well-being and development of the GAA in the county. Those themes are:

1. Governance: Managing the GAA in the County to best effect at all levels
2. Finance and Fundraising: Providing the cash resources needed to help make the GAA happen
3. Communication: Ensuring that the GAA in the county is getting the relevant information to all of its people in the most appropriate way
4. Integration, Inclusion and Diversity: Taking forward a Monaghan county structure that is open and welcoming to all
5. Infrastructure and Facilities: Putting in place and maintaining the fit-for-purpose facilities that are needed for Monaghan County Committee to achieve its aims
6. Club and Community Development: Ensuring the real engine of the GAA, the Club, can deliver on its objectives and continue to act as a hub for the well-being and development of its host community
7. Culture and Heritage: Reflecting the fundamentally important Gaelic dimension of the Association
8. Games and Fixtures: Delivering meaningful programmes of games for player at all levels and of all abilities
9. Hurling: Fostering a game which is central to the Gaelic code
10. Coaching, Player Development, Youth and Schools: Working to ensure players at all levels and at all abilities are equipped to get maximum benefit and enjoyment out of their participation in Gaelic games and providing the support needed to those who will be the GAA adult members and players of the future

A series of actions is put forward under each theme. The actions are timed and responsibility for their implementation is clearly flagged up. In the same way the outcomes sought, as a result of all this activity, are spelled out.

Finally, arrangements for the ongoing monitoring of the plan are put forward.

GAA: MISSION, VISION, VALUES

The GAA's values are the heart and soul of our Association. In every GAA unit around the world they are what binds it together; what makes it unique; and what attracts more and more players, members, volunteers and supporters to come on board.

The GAA is a volunteer organisation. It develops and promotes Gaelic games as core elements of Irish identity and culture. It is dedicated to ensuring that its games and its values enrich the lives of the members, the families and the communities it serves. It is committed to active lifelong participation for all and to providing the best facilities. It reaches out to and includes all members of society. It promotes individual development and well-being and strives to enable all its members to achieve their full potential in their chosen roles.

VISION

The GAA's vision is that everybody has the opportunity to be welcomed to take part in its games and culture, to participate fully, to grow and develop and to be inspired to keep a lifelong engagement with the Association.

Monaghan County Committee is proudly part of Ulster and it subscribes to the mission and values of the Ulster Council.

MONAGHAN THE COUNTY

GEOGRAPHY

Monaghan is a land-locked county of largely rolling drumlin topography, covering some 1,300 sq km. It is Ireland's sixth smallest county and the second smallest in Ulster. Its land is of mixed quality, interspersed with some 50 large and 200 small lakes. It is dissected by the national N2 route linking Dublin with Derry

HISTORY

The archaeology of Monaghan shows it to have a long history and to have been inhabited from the earliest times.

Modern Monaghan first emerged in the late 1500s when Sir John Perrot oversaw the creation of the five Baronies which exist to this day. Over the following centuries Monaghan was as affected as any other part of Ireland by the great pivotal events and shifts of history. For a century and a half after the Great Hunger its population haemorrhaged as the County continued to rely heavily on its agricultural base. Partition was a major blow to Monaghan, putting a barrier between it and its natural neighbours in Armagh; Fermanagh and Tyrone. In the same way, as the conflict in the Six Counties erupted in the latter half of the 20th century, Monaghan was heavily affected, both directly and indirectly.

PEOPLE

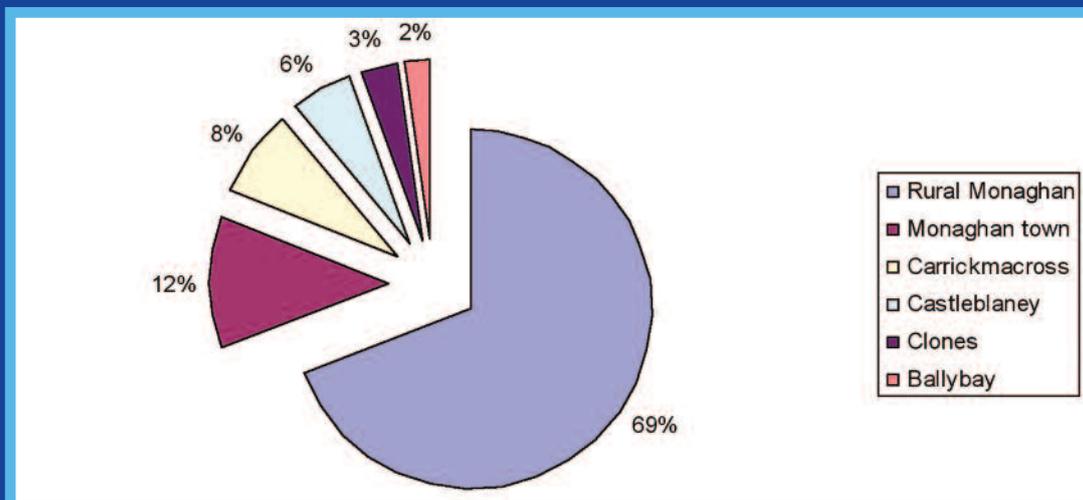

In 2006 its population was 55,800. Monaghan is (after Leitrim; Longford; and Carlow) the fourth least populated county in Ireland and the smallest in Ulster. The county is now enjoying a growth in population having experienced a drastic decline of 77% from its pre-Famine peak of over 200,000 to its 1966 nadir of 45,732. During the 1980s and the 1990s Monaghan's population effectively stagnated and the county still lags behind key national demographic trends. The county's age profile closely matches the national pattern with 21% aged under 14; 63% aged 15 to 59 and 16% aged 60 or over.

Although it remains a largely rural county, Monaghan, in common with the rest of Ireland, is becoming increasingly urbanised. Nearly one person in three in the county, some 16,000 people or 29% of the total, lives in towns of more than 1,500 people. The main towns are Monaghan (10,000); Carrickmacross (6,000); Castleblaney (3,125); Clones (2,000); and Ballybay (1,500). Broadly speaking, and again in common with the rest of Ireland, Monaghan's towns are growing and its more marginal rural areas are declining.

MONAGHAN: POPULATION DISTRIBUTION

In terms of the County's social structures, over 4,900 people in Monaghan have a disability. Some 2,700 Monaghan people (6%) are involved in helping with voluntary sporting activity, against a national average of 5%; 36,500 people meanwhile are not involved in any voluntary activity.

The 2006 Census showed that 5,640 people in the County (one-person-in-ten) were non-Irish. Some 3,000 of these were people from the new EU accession states, i.e. essentially from Eastern Europe.

ECONOMY

Monaghan remains what could be termed an "old economy" county with significant numbers of people employed in traditional industries such as agriculture (2,630); manufacturing (4,130); and construction (3,545); and wholesaling/retailing (3,490). The public services sector is also important, particularly health and social work (2,555 workers) and education (1,480).

SCHOOLS

Monaghan is home to twelve second level schools with a total pupil complement of almost 5,500 (2,937 girls and 2,492 boys). There are meanwhile 64 Primary Schools across the County with a pupil population of 6701. Monaghan does not however have any Third Level provision, i.e colleges that can accredit to degree status. MIFET, in Monaghan town, does however fulfil an important role in terms of Third Level access and provision.

FUTURE PATTERNS AND TRENDS

The National Spatial Strategy (2002 – 2020) predicts that Monaghan Town will develop as an urban hub within the region. There will also be a focus on sustaining rural areas, at least partially through tourism development. The county's border location opens up considerable potential for cooperation with the north whilst to the east and south the influences of Dundalk/Drogheda and Dublin will grow.

THE GAA IN MONAGHAN

"Somebody has said that no man can adequately describe Irish life who ignores the Gaelic Athletic Association, which is true in a way, for football runs women a hard race as a topic for conversation."

Patrick Kavanagh "Gut Yer Man"

The GAA in Monaghan dates from 1887 when the first County Board was established. That early momentum was maintained as the county (represented by Inniskeen), went on to win the first-ever Ulster Senior Football Championship in 1888. Although the number of GAA Clubs had quickly grown to 32, the malign influence of the "Parnell Split" and other issues saw that number just as quickly plummet to two by 1891. Monaghan's GAA resurgence took nearly a decade-and-a-half to come about but in 1906 a first-ever Ulster SFC Final (albeit the 1904 one) was played in Clones and a year later Monaghan had regained the Ulster SFC title (the 1906 one which had been delayed until 1907). By 1917 four more Ulster titles were added, followed by another five in the 1920s. Monaghan vied first with Antrim and then with Cavan for overall Ulster supremacy and strengthened their position by winning the first two Dr. McKenna Cup competitions in 1927 and 1928.

Thereafter Monaghan's power at County level waned although it remained a consistent football presence. The Ulster SFC title was regained after a 41-year absence in 1979 and won again in 1985 and 1988. In many ways the Monaghan team of the 1980s contributed hugely to an Ulster renaissance, particularly via its winning of a first National Football League title in 1985. Hurling, meanwhile, was not neglected and Monaghan won the All-Ireland Junior Hurling Championship in 1997. The county also played a leading role in the development of ladies football in Ulster and remains the Province's only county to win Senior All-Ireland titles (two, in 1996 and 1997).

GAA club affairs in Monaghan have always been vibrant and at the end of the 1970s Scotstown emerged to win three Ulster Club titles in a row, adding another in 1989. Castleblayney also won titles in 1986 and 1991. The County currently has 33 GAA Clubs, one for roughly every 2,000 people.

Beyond the games Monaghan has been a consistent presence in Scór and has, in common with other Ulster Counties, put in place an extensive and high quality infrastructure for Gaelic Games and associated activities. St Tiarnach's Park Clones has effectively become the home of the Ulster Final and was significantly improved and upgraded in the early 1990s.

THEME 1

GOVERNANCE

Governance, in the context of Monaghan County Committee, refers to the way that it administers its business and carries out its responsibilities at the various levels Management Committee and each Sub-committee. The Association was founded on, and to this day, still depends on the time and effort of dedicated and enthusiastic volunteers who are passionate about Gaelic Games and Culture. However, even as volunteer-led association, it has accepted a responsibility and must endeavour to carry out its responsibilities in a professional and effective manner, always seeking to do better, and in so doing, to progress and develop the Association in Monaghan. This Strategic Plan offers the opportunity to review, and change where appropriate, the conduct of its business and bring about change, if required. This constant focus on improvement will ultimately achieve better results, both in the meeting room and on the field of play.

THEME 2.

FINANCE AND FUNDRAISING

While the GAA in Monaghan is an amateur organisation, it has developed to a point where it is responsible for a large annual budget and significant financial transactions on a daily basis. Therefore professionalism is required with regard to all aspects of financial management procedures. Monaghan County Committee has been prudent with respect to our expenditure and therefore has acquired a solid foundation on which to plan for the future. However, given the present economic context, it is imperative that it applies the best practice in managing all aspects of expenditure and that it be imaginative in our fund-raising initiatives. It must also provide leadership and support to the clubs to ensure that they adopt best practice with regard to all financial activity.

CLUB AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

The Club not only persists as the core driver of the GAA but also acts in most cases as a vital anchor within its host community. Again it is crucial that all Monaghan's GAA Clubs are fit-for-purpose and that they match best practice standards: only then can they be fully effective in carrying out their core work. Volunteers need to be cherished and Clubs have an increasingly important role in contributing to the improved health and well-being of their members and local communities.

CULTURE AND HERITAGE

The GAA is actively involved in the promotion of Gaelic culture and heritage as well as Gaelic games. The GAA at every level is now in the responsible position where it is itself central to Ireland's culture and heritage. While respectful of our responsibility to promote integration, it is important that the Association uses its facilities and premises to promote the Irish language and other aspects of Irish culture through language use, branding; signage; and Gaelic art. Due to the number of Irish language enthusiasts in the area, Co. Monaghan is in a position to help facilitate the promotion of the Irish language at Club and County level. GAMES SCHEDULE AND FIXTURES

As the games we play are the focal point of the Association in Monaghan, the manner in which we schedule them is critical to player, coach, referee, official and supporter alike. We must strive for a balance that ensures all players have a sufficient number of games while at the same time ensuring that player burnout is avoided. The GAA in Monaghan is determined to develop a fixture plan that is integrated and inclusive, keeping both the player and the family central. THEME 9.

HURLING

Hurling in Monaghan is being kept alive by the work of a small number of clubs and a limited supply of volunteers. We will provide the support necessary to develop the grassroots of hurling in Monaghan by strengthening the existing clubs and encouraging the affiliation of new clubs. In taking this approach we will be taking advantage of the work being done in our primary and secondary schools.

THEME 10.

COACHING, PLAYER DEVELOPMENT, YOUTH AND SCHOOLS

In Monaghan the GAA is committed to the development of all our members who take part in our games. Every player, referee and coach must have the opportunity and the encouragement to develop their full potential. While most focus will be on the development of the younger members, development must be a lifelong process. It must be as committed to developing our adults, whether, players, referee's or coaches. Likewise it is focused on the development of all aspects of the player, not simply the technical skills. Demographics demand that every avenue is used to develop all of those who participate in our games, if we are to achieve the success we year.

WHAT GETS MEASURED GETS DONE

The success of the Monaghan GAA strategic plan depends on its effective implementation.

To ensure that such implementation occurs, it is vital that a robust management and monitoring strategy is devised. This will allow regular monitoring and evaluation of progress regarding meeting the agreed targets contained within the plan.

The Strategic Planning group proposed in this plan will be appointed and ratified by County Committee. This body will be established at convention 2010. The committee will present an annual work programme setting out objectives, targets and outcomes as per the plan to the County Committee in January each year. The committee will provide a report to the County Executive/County Committee twice a year and an overall report at each County convention. This will ensure transparency and accountability. The annual work-plans presented by County sub-committees will also focus on how those groups will bring life to what is in this strategy.

The Strategic Planning Committee will consist of the following personnel;
Independent Chair (Not a member of the County Committee)
County Chairperson, County Secretary, County Treasurer
Two additional members of the County Committee (Not Members of the County Management Committee). Two additional members (Not members of the County Committee)

The Strategic planning committee will meet with representatives of Comhairle Uladh twice annually for a progress report on the implementation of the strategy.
